In consequence of the great number of complaints which have for a long time been made by Emigrants, of frauds committed upon them in the sending of money to their friends in Ireland, and to sid and protect the Emigrant, the Irish Emigrant Society established a fund, deposited in the Bank of Ireland, upon which they draw drafts, payable at sight, at any of the branches of the Bank.

Persons residing out of the city, by enclosing in a letter the sum they wish forwarded, with the plainly written direction to whom and where it is to be paid, will have the same remitted.

direction to whom and where it is to be paid, will have the same remitted.

There is a great advantage in purchasing the Society's drafts—that the Bank has a branch in each of the principal towns in Ireland, and thus the losses by discount, and otherwise, are avoided.

The Society keeps an office at No. 22 Spruce street, to which Emigrants can apply to obtain situations for which they are fitted.

Orders from employers in the country, stating the services required, the wages, and the cheapest modes of conveyance, and giving a respectable reference, will meet with prompt attention.

The Society will be thankful for all circumstantial and early information of any fraud, imposition, or outrage committed on Emigrants, and will endeavor speedily to apply a remedy.

For the American Telegraph. The Woods. BY THOMAS S. DONOHO

Woods! ye are beautiful ever, And I love ye more and more, Though my life grows old mid the city's glare, And its days will soon be o'er.

Spring! with thy delicate fingers, How thou robest the arching trees! How thou sendest thy merry minstrels forth-The birds and the fairy breeze! Summer, with deeper shadows,

And watches the flowers as one by one They rise in the lowland green. Then Autumn, glorious Autumn!

Though they call his coming sad, Let it seemeth to me, with his many tints, That he makes the woods more glad. And the goiden leaves that fall, And circle away through the air, And glide along on the silvery stream—

I see no sorrow there! Tis only as man shall lose Whatever adorns him now; But life shall return to the dead again As leaves to the desolate bough!

VII. Woods! when the Winter rules, With storm, and hail, and snow-Gloomy the world may call ye then, But to me ye are not so.

For a majesty is yours, Like that of the lonely LEAR-A pride-a pomp in your ruined state-

MAYE COTTAGE, Washington. The Health of Washington.

We have recently received a copy of the Report of the Board of Health," made to the Mayor of Washington by Thomas Miller, M. D. the distinguished President of the Board.

No returns of either marriages or births which have taken place in this city are given; for the reason that the number of these reported to the Board during the past year, from the neglect of ministers and accouchers, are so far short of the actual number which do occur, that to publish them would be giving a very false impres-sion of the real number. If the Councils deem it important to collect statistical knowledge on these subjects, (and the Board think it is important,) they must enact laws to make it obligatory on ministers of the Gospel and those who are empowered to perform the marriage ceremony to report marriages, and accouchers or heads of families to report the births; and the laws must be enforced.

From experience, derived from past observations, the Board are sustained in the conviction of the value and importance of vaccination, and it justifies them in reiterating their former opinions of the necessity of a permanent vac-cine institution. They recommend, as con-nected with a vaccine establishment, that there be a pest house erected, and placed under proper and permanent arrangements, so that it will be accessible at all times for cases of smallpox, as well as any other disease of an infectious or contagious nature. replied, "What The attention of the Board has been called to much brain!" the practice which obtains in some of the Board suggest to the Mayor and to the City Councils whether some action on their part on this subject might not be appropriate, and save much trouble and vexation in future.

There is in this report a chapter on the subect of alleys, gutters, and sewers. From the vigilant efforts of the members of the Board. aided, as it has been, by the Mayor, the City Councils, and an efficient police, much, we ar told, has been done towards effecting cleanliuess; yet much has still to be done. ing ourselves of the natural advantages of the locality of our city, by disregarding obsolete laws, fixed opinions, and rigid construction of old laws, and making our grades to accord with ommon sense, founded on scientific observa tions, we will remove many of the obstacles which now exist to proper drainage, and in this way carry off all offensive and unhealthy collec-

But a defect exists with regard to the con struction of sewers. In the present plan their mouths are left open, and no arrangement exists to prevent them from eliminating a most offensive and deleterious effluvia. In a communica tion heretofore addressed to the Mayor, the Board suggested a method by which, in opinion, the difficulty thus presented might be obviated. It consists in having either a balancevalve over the mouth of every sewer, or the construction of what is termed by plumbers goose-necks or air-traps. The sewer on the orner of 14th street and Pennsylvania avenue has been arranged according to this plan, with the most satisfactory result.

The Board express their pleasure in announc-ing the healthfulness of the city during the past year, and its exemption from epidemic and con agious diseases, with the exception of the smallpox, which, however, prevailed to a very imited extent, and was generally confined to the most destitute class of society, who resided in the suburbs of the city, and who had never enjoyed the advantages of vaccination. The umber of deaths during the past year exceed those of the previous by a few. take into consideration that we have a growing population of between forty and fifty thousand side a large number of strangers and sojourn ers, and when we examine the table of interments, it can readily be accounted for; and even with this increase we compare most fably with the healthiest parts of the world. Our list of deaths prove, too, the infrequency of deaths from that class of diseases usually accredited to the influence of climate and locality. In this respect our city has, within a few years past, undergone a marked improvement. [Republic.

AMERICAN TELEGRAPH

The Missionary and Tract Society of Washington.

This society has been in operation upwards of two years, during which time a great amount of good has been accomplished through the untiring efforts of the agent, Mr. D. M. Wilson. It is supported by a number of the Christian churches of our city, whose pastors in turn regularly preach at the stations established. Two convenient edifices have already been erected: one in the northern portion of our city, and the other in the neighborhood of the National Observatory, where, in addition to the advantages of stated preaching, Sabbath schools have also been organized, affording the means of religious instruction to many of the youth of our city, who were previously, to a great ex-tent, neglected. The Beliefy fully morite the countenance and support of every good citizen, and appeals with peculiar force to the various churches of the city, to whom it more particularly looks for means in the prosecution of its humane and Christian work.

We are permitted to take the following extract from the report of the agent for the quarter ending 30th August, 1851: "In the three months ending August 30, 1851, I have visited 696 families, and re-visited 108, (including the infirmary, jail, almshouse, and garrison, six times each,) making in all 804 visits; have been engaged in prayer in these 594 times; distributed 1,110 tracts, containing 13,320 pages; held 56 meetings; 5 profess to have experienced a change of heart, and I doubt not are sincere in their professions; 2 have united with evangelical churches, and one other is applying for admission; 3 have died peaceful and bappy deaths—2 previous to joining the church on earth, but gone, as I have good reason to hope and believe, to join the church triumphant above. There are others for whom I entertain strong hopes that a work of grace is being wrought on their hearts, respecting whom I prefer to await further developments previous o reporting their cases."

COTTON MANUFACTURES .- The New England otton manufacturers are said to be turning their attention to the making of much finer classes of goods than they formerly made: eaving the coarser and heavier fabrics to the South and West, where they are constantly attracting increased attention.

THE LUDICROUS SIDES OF LIFE .- It was readness in repartee which continually saved Voltaire from overturn. He once praised another writer very heartily to a third person. "It is very strange," was the reply, "that you speak so well of him, for he says that you are a char-latan." "Oh," replied Voltaire, "I think it very likely that both of us may be mistaken."

A young man was discoursing very dogmatically about the appropriate sphere of wo-man. "And pray, sir," screamed an old lady, "what is the appropriate sphere of woman?" "A celestial sphere, madam."

Robert Hall did not lose his power of retort even in madness. A hypocritical condoler with his misfortunes once visited him in the madhouse, and said in a whining tone, "What brought you here, Mr. Hall?" Hall significantly touched his brow with his finger, and replied, "What will never bring you, sir,—too

This readiness made John Randolph so terri ble in retort. He was the Thersites of Congress a tongue stabber! Immediately the Senate was in an uproar, and he was clamorously called to order. The presiding officer, however, sustained him; and pointing his long skinny fingers at his opponents, Randolph screamed out, "Rats, did I say ?-mice mice!" - Whipple.

THE DIVISION OF CALIFORNIA .- The California papers speak of the scheme for the division of the State as likely to be carried into effect. The project is to separate the seven southern counties, which begin just above Monterey, from the northern portion of the commonwealth; and the argument used is, that this southern half, being entirely an agricultural district, bas its interests overlooked, and will continue to be overlooked, by the legislature, controlled, as that body is, by the mining influence. A good deal of feeling, we perceive, has already been awakened in our Atlantic cities, respecting this movement. We see no cause. already been awakened in our Atlantic cities, respecting this movement. We see no cause, however, for excitement. The affair is purely Californian, and does not concern the eastern States, at least in its present aspect. If the people of California wish to separate into two distinct commonwealths, they will just have to express this desire in a constitutional manner; and when this is done, it will be quite time for Congress to take up the subject, and for citizens of the Atlantic border to enter into the discussion. The probability at present is discussion. The probability, at present, is, that a majority of the Californians will repudiate the division. We Americans are always too much in a hurry; and we carry its haste into politics. For ourselves, we see no necessity for making a mountain out of this mole-hill yet.

[Phil. Evening Bulletin ARRIVAL OF KOSSUTH IN THIS COUNTRY .- A sublime spectacle will be presented when Kossuth, the man of this age, arrives upon the shores of this free country, and is welcomed to a home in a land of liberty, by the joyous accla-mations of multitudes of freemen. If aught can console his heart for exile from his native shores, it will be the fact that here he will find a second country. The greatest statesman, orator and hero of the old world will find in the new an appreciation of his merits which will only be the keener from his misfortunes. In the eyes of our countrymen, defeat and disaster will not diminish their estimation of his greatness. Kossuth, a wanderer and an exile, is more admirable than Napoleon at the height of power achieved by the surrender of principle. [Richmond Republican.

CONCERT .- We learn that in order to accommodate the Italian Operatic Company, who pur-pose giving a Grand Concert in the city on Monday evening next, the Columbia Musical Association has postponed its concert to the following Monday, the 3d of November. The programme, &c., will probably be published to-morrow. - Nat. Intel.

EXTENSION OF THE CAPITOL.—The time for receiving bids for work and materials for the extension of the Capitol expired at six o'clock on Monday evening. There were above one hundred bids received, all of which were securely enveloped, and the seal of the Depart-ment of the Interior placed upon them by the Secretary.

The bids were opened at twelve o'clock yesterday, in the presence of the Secretary of the Interior, the Attorney General, and the Architect, and a record made of them by one of the clerks of the Department, for the purpose of retaining it on file in the office.

The Architect leaves here this morning to examine the quarries of the several bidders for granite and marble, and no decision will be nade on any of the bids until his return. Republic.
